Last call for federal donors to pledge through the 2019 CFCNCA

Final day to pledge is Jan. 12, 2020

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6, 2020 – The window for federal employees and retirees to make pledges through the 2019 Combined Federal Campaign of the National Capital Area \(CFCNCA\) is ending. The last day to make a pledge is Jan. 12, 2020.

The CFCNCA is the annual charitable giving program for the federal community in the Washington Metropolitan Area and surrounding regions, and has already raised more than $27 million and more than 56,000 volunteer hours for participating CFC charities this year.

“We are closing in on our goal of $34 million which is really exciting,” said Vince Micone, Chairperson of the Local Federal Coordinating Committee that oversees the CFCNCA. “The final weeks of the campaign historically have some of our biggest pledge days, so we are hopeful we will meet this goal. Over the years the federal community in the D.C. area has been extremely generous, and therefore we are working very hard to remind every employee and retiree about the opportunity to Show Some Love to their favorite causes and make a pledge before Jan. 12, 2020.”

Federal donors should give through the CFCNCA because:

- There are thousands of vetted charities from which to choose.
- Pledges can be made via payroll deduction.
- Donors can support multiple charities in one pledge.
- The secure online giving platform makes it easy to renew gifts each year.

- Active federal employees and contractors can pledge volunteer hours as well.
- Giving through the campaign can have a significant collective impact, supporting the thousands of charities that depend on the federal community's generosity.

Federal donors in the CFCNCA can make their monetary and volunteerism pledges online through cfcnca.org.

Federal employees and retirees located outside the CFCNCA can look up and donate to their local campaign at cfcgiving.opm.gov.

Paper pledge forms must also be postmarked by Jan. 12, 2020.
